ABOUT US

Welcome to a new journey of experiential learning at Sargodha University

Sargodha University is an emerging institution for advanced studies and research in Higher Education in Pakistan with its various initiatives at academic, research and institutional level. The University is making its global impression through research and academic collaborations with reputable international organizations particularly in the field of agriculture. It is a pioneer university in Pakistan to join Agriculture, Scientific and Innovation League of Belt and Road Initiative. To strengthen people to people connection between Pakistan and China, the fifth Confucius Institute is being set-up at the main campus. It also owns the largest Lincoln Corner which falls under the ‘Golden Category’ in the jurisdiction of US Consulate General Lahore.

With its main and one sub-campus, the University has currently more than 26,000 students and nearly 800 faculty members, including over 300 PhDs, in 24 Departments, two Institutes, five Constituent Colleges and seven Faculties, including Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering and Technology, Medical and Health Sciences, Pharmacy, Arts and Humanities, and Social Sciences.

To foster the culture of research and intellectual growth, the University offers a blend of modern teaching, research and lodging facilities to its students and scholars, including well-equipped classrooms and research labs, rich library resources with online access to books and journals, as well as a secure and serene environment for sports and co-curricular activities. With an affordable fee structure, it provides a host of scholarships, internships and career development opportunities to the deserving and competitive students. The campus life remains busy with scholarly events during each semester, and students have ample avenues to harness their untapped talent and youthful energy. The University also runs an FM radio station, offering infotainment to the youth.
